Preface

The Business Continuity and Recovery Plan is intended to be used in addition to your Emergency Preparedness and Response Plan. Some key differences between these plans are:

Business Continuity and Recovery Plan

This plan is for use once life and safety are secure in response to a disaster. This plan identifies key resources and needs to ensure that business may continue, perhaps in a limited capacity, or how your business will fully recover should the disaster be catastrophic.

This plan includes information such as:

- Critical assets
- Critical operations
- Key suppliers and contractors
- Alternate business location

Emergency Preparedness and Response Plan

This plan identifies and prioritizes the key hazards that may affect business operations, and outlines preparedness and mitigation activities. This plan also includes operational procedures to respond effectively and efficiently to an incident. This goal of these procedure is to ensure life and safety are secure in response to a disaster.

This plan includes information such as:

- Preparedness
  - Hazard identification and assessment
  - Employee education and training
  - o Drills and exercises timelines and plans for your business
  - First aid kits
  - Disaster supply kits
- Response
  - Evacuation procedures
  - Fire procedures
  - o Shelter-in-place procedures
  - o Staff notification
  - o Information gathering procedures
  - Incident management

Step 3: Potential Hazards

This information should be included in your Emergency Preparedness and Response Plan, however reiterating key potential hazards in your Business Continuity and Recovery Plan will help you focus on the types of incidents from which you may need to recover. Make sure to look inside and outside your business as well as the surrounding community. Ask yourself questions like: How do I get in and out of the area? How do my staff, suppliers, and customers get in and out of the area? What should I be concerned with that could interrupt my business?

The following natural and man-made disasters could impact our business.

EXTERNAL (earthquake, fire, power outage, flood, pandemic illness etc.)
INTERNAL (fire, flood, theft, data management, power outage, disease outbreak, etc.)

For more advanced hazard assessment, see the Appendix: Risk Assessment Matrix.

Step 4: Critical Assets

If these items are taken away, it would drastically affect your business or cause a major disruption to business.

PEOPLE (employees, customers, vendors, suppliers, v	isitors, etc.)
BUILDING (physical structure, storage unit, warehous	e, main office, store front, capital lease, etc.)
FOURNIENT (
EQUIPMENT (computers, software, servers/network,	specialty/manufacturing tools, copiers, furniture, etc.)
DATA (documents, payroll, files, records, server back-u	in tance etc.)
DATA (documents, payron, mes, records, server back-to	p rapes, etc. )
A	200
INVENTORY/PRODUCT (stock, supplies, new mater	ials, etc, etc.)
OPERATIONS (any disruption to ops, accounts receive	able/payable, payroll, manufacturing, mail room, etc.)

Step 5: Critical Operations

Identify operations that are critical for business survival. Does your business provide services crucial to the incident response? How will you continue to perform these functions in a disaster situation? What operations are necessary to fulfill legal and financial obligations? Which are necessary to maintain cash flow and reputation?

PROCEDURES TO RESTART OPERATION AFTER MINIMAL DISASTER IMPACT: If a disaster causes negligible or marginal impact on operations, these procedures will help to restart the operation in the same location.

PROCEDURES TO COMPLETELY RESTORE OPERATION AFTER SIGNIFICANT DISASTER IMPACT: If a disaster causes critical or catastrophic impact on operations, these procedures will help to restore the operation in the same location, an alternate location, or a new location.

Step 7: Computer Inventory Form

Use this form to:

- Log your computer hardware serial and model numbers. Attach a copy of your vendor documentation to this document.
- Record the name of the company from which you purchased or leased this equipment and the contact name to notify for your computer repairs.

Make additional copies as needed. Keep one copy of this list in a secure place on your premises and another in an off-site location.

Step 8: Information Technology Security

Data security and back up should be an ongoing process, however it is crucial after a disaster. If you use a contractor for your IT support, they should be including in your business continuity and recovery planning. Identify the records that are essential to perform your critical functions. Vital records may include employee data, payroll, financial and insurance records, customer data, legal and lease documents. Are any impossible to re-create or are copies stored offsite?

Step 9: Alternate/Temporary Business Location

Determine if it is possible to set up an alternate or temporary business location if your primary site is unavailable. Would this site become your new primary business site? Do you have multiple locations in which you can condense work operations? How much work can be done virtually? Does your business park have options for relocation in the same park? What pre-agreements would you need?

Step 12: Continuity of Management Plan

You can assume that not every key person will be readily available or physically at the facility after an emergency. Ensure that recovery decisions can be made without undue delay. If relevant, consult your legal department regarding laws and corporate bylaws governing continuity of management.

Establish procedures for:

- Assuring the chain of command
- Maintaining lines of succession for key personnel

Risk Assessment Matrix

Using your list of potential hazards and critical assets, you are now ready to begin to prioritize things and asses where your business is vulnerable to disruption. For each of the six categories, you will decide the level of impact each of the hazards will have on your business.

Before completing your Risk Assessment Matrix you need to understand the difference between the levels of impact. Below the levels are discussed and listed in order of escalation.

- Negligible limited to no business disruptions or property damage
- Marginal a hindrance that may affect business operations without shutting down, you have no minor damage, it may be an occurrence in the surrounding neighborhood
- Critical temporary disruptions of business or major damage to the facility, impacts are to the community
- Catastrophic a disaster that affects entire regional community causing business disruptions and forces closure of building(s). This is an event of large proportions. It can include complete destruction, multiple injuries or deaths, and a regional event which means limited or no outside resources available for prolonged periods of time.

The table on the following page will help you to determine and prioritize your business risks. General types of events are listed on the left side. There are additional spaces provided to customize for your business needs.

Begin with the first listed disaster event, earthquake. Circle the number in each asset area to score how the hazard would likely impact your business. Complete the other rows then total your numbers for both columns and rows.

As the last step, prioritize which areas should be addressed first, based on highest vulnerability, and then assign each column with your priority number 1-6.
